Animal Science

The Nebraska College of Technical Agriculture (NCTA), a two-year college connected to the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, is seeking applications for an Open Rank Professor. This is a 9-month (academic year) non-tenure track appointment teaching animal science in the Agricultural Production Systems Department, with a preferred start date of January 6, 2025. Will consider an August 2025 start date. This position will be located in Curtis, NE, which is 200 miles west of Lincoln, NE, or 45 miles south of North Platte, NE. Review of applications will begin on 10/01/2024 and continue until the position is filled or the search is closed. To view details of the position and create an application, go to <https://employment.unl.edu>, requisition F_240103. Recognizing that diversity enhances creativity, innovation, impact, and a sense of belonging, the University of Nebraska and NCTA are committed to creating learning, research, Extension programming, and work environments that are inclusive of all forms of diversity. Consistent with the University's N2025 Strategic Plan, we see every person and every interaction as important to our collective well-being and our ability to deliver on our mission. This position is not eligible for employment-based permanent residency sponsorship. UNL may be able to sponsor temporary work authorization (e.g., H-1B) for the successful candidate. As an EO/AA employer, the University of Nebraska considers qualified applicants for employment without regard to race, color, ethnicity, national origin, sex, pregnancy, sexual orientation, gender identity, religion, disability, age, genetic information, veteran status, marital status, and/or political affiliation. See <https://www.unl.edu/equity/notice-nondiscrimination>.
